Bio: HI! My name is Jess and I am a sophomore here at Merrimack. I'm studying Health Science with plans to go to PA school after college.

Some things I like to do in my free time is watch Netflix, hangout with my friends and go hunting for good sunset spots. I absolutely love animals and actually volunteer at a dog rescue in Woburn, MA that finds forever homes for dogs that would otherwise be euthanized. My co-workers are quite furry and loud, but they are outrageously adorable. Due to this, I have an endless amount of dog pictures on my phone and I love to show them off!

Another hobby of mine is finding new music to listen to, so if you have any recommendations let me know :)
