

Jenna Wike

Honors Peer Mentor

Hometown: Syracuse, NY

Class: Junior

School: Merrimack College

Major: Exercise Science

Minors: Bioethics

Bio: I became a peer mentor because I love meeting new friends and helping others. My freshman year, this was a great experience for me and one of the main reasons why I love the honors program. I know how difficult freshman year can be for several reasons, but I promise this experience will make it fun!! I love learning new things about people and I'm always here for anyone whenever they need it, whether it's dealing with homework, professor recommendations, roommate issues, homesickness, etc. I hope you learn to love the honors program and Merrimack as much as I do!! As a freshman, I was really nervous to come to college, because I did not know anybody coming here from my high school, and I would be 5 hours away from home. However after a few weeks, I was no longer nervous as I would leave my dorm room door open and make friends with people in my hall and got involved in some clubs to meet new people outside of my team and my classes! Getting involved is the best advice I can give to a freshman!
