

Ray Mullin

Honors Peer Mentor

My name is Ray Mullin and I am a sophomore civil engineering student here at Merrimack. I chose to become a Honors Peer Mentor due to how helpful my Peer Mentor was in my transition to college my first semester. My Peer Mentor helped me to figure out how to succeed in college and all the questions I had, she was able to answer. I want to help incoming freshmen succeed and thrive at Merrimack by offering them all of the information and resources they need.

Personally, in the summers I love going golfing and in the winters I love skiing. Here at Merrimack, I love playing sports with my friends including spikeball, basketball, baseball, and football. I look forward to being able to help incoming freshmen learn how to succeed here at Merrimack!
